

80s

80s - It's all about brows.
Thinking about the 80s brings back memories of over-the-top hair and extremely colourful makeup. But the best makeup tip to carry on with is the natural brow. Natural brows are becoming ever so popular today, and as long as they are tidy and shaped a fuller brow adds a natural sophistication that even the most perfectly drawn brows can't give.

Innoxia Eye Brow Pencil with Silk in Light Brown, $19.00
Inka Mineral Brow Pencil in Brown Baby, $27.00
L'Oréal Escargot Brow Brush, $30.00
Anastasia Beverly Hills Tinted Brow Gel in Brunette, $41.00

90s

90s - The Minimalist.
As a rebellion against the 80s, the 90s was a time of minimalism in beauty. What can we learn from this? Sometimes less is more especially when it comes to foundation. Only apply foundation makeup where your skin needs it. If your skin is even then you don't need to apply makeup over your whole face - place where it is needed and use a buffing brush to blend.

Dr Hauschka Translucent Make-Up in Pale Sand, $49.00
Inka Kabuki Brush, $58.50
Innoxia Line Defying Make-Up SPF20, $39.00
L'Oréal Paris Rare Natural Powdered Mineral Foundation SPF18, $45.99

00s - Vintage Style
At no other time in the last 50 years have we seen more use of vintage and classic designs in fashion, beauty and hair. Designers have used inspiration from the Elizabethan period to the Flappers of the Roaring Twenties. In New Zealand we can see the mixing of retro 50s pin-up girl skirts with a modern fashion twist. Find a vintage style that you love and make it work for you.
